

JTMUN XII

CODE OF CONDUCT

JT Model United Nations

1. Respect and Professional Conduct

All participants are expected to treat delegates, Secretariat members, faculty, volunteers, guests, and other participants with respect. Harassment, bullying, intimidation, discrimination, or deliberately disruptive behaviour is not permitted.

2. Committee Conduct

Delegates should maintain appropriate conduct during committee sessions, follow the directions of the Chair, maintain decorum, and participate respectfully.

3. Attendance and Punctuality

Participants should attend their assigned sessions and arrive on time. Repeated lateness or unexplained absence may be addressed by the Secretariat.

4. Dress and Presentation

Participants should maintain a professional appearance appropriate for a school Model United Nations conference.

5. Academic Integrity

Plagiarism, falsification of information, impersonation, and other forms of academic dishonesty are not permitted.

6. Technology and Privacy

Electronic devices may be used where permitted. Participants should respect the privacy of others and should not record or publish material involving another participant without appropriate permission.

7. Venue and Property

Participants are expected to treat the venue, furniture, equipment, and other property with care. Deliberate damage may result in disciplinary action.

8. Secretariat Authority

The JTMUN Secretariat may address violations of this Code of Conduct. Depending on the seriousness of an incident, this may include a warning, removal from a session, or removal from the conference.

9. Agreement

By participating in JTMUN XII, participants agree to follow this Code of Conduct and reasonable instructions issued by the JTMUN Secretariat and venue authorities.
